PROJECTS

Food Delivery Application • 07/2024 - 08/2024

This food delivery application is a full-stack web project built using the MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) stack. The application allows users to see a complete menu that is filterable and customizable using the Administration component. Users are also able to purchase their orders using the Stripe API and are able to see the status of their orders.

Interactive-RPG • 08/2024 - 08/2024

ASU

This application is the result of a group project that employs the MERN stack to generate an interactive experience for users, allowing them to choose their own destiny.

Google Book Search Engine • 07/2024 - 07/2024

ASU

This application represents the efficiency of the MERN stack, as this is a result of transforming an RESTful API to a complete MERN application that allows users to search and save to their book collection.
